اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي لَكَ صُومْتُ وَبِكَ أَفْطَرْتُ
وَ عَلَيْكَ تَوَكَّلْتُ وَكَلَى رِزْقِكَ أَنْظَرْتُ

PLEASE

- Salat time at masjid/calandia
- Fajr should be ten minutes before sunrise.

- Copulation with the wife

If a fast is broken during the sixty days of Ramadhan, a poor person should be given charity equal to the value of the fast.

UNDES

FASTING

Fasting in the month of Ramadhan is obligatory for all adult and sane Muslims. Fasting is to abstain from eating, drinking, smoking and conjugal relations from the beginning time of Fajr salat (Subha Sadiq) to sunset. Actions which are prohibited in everyday life of a Muslim carry additional prohibitory emphasis e.g. adultery, lying, slandering, backbiting, use of obscene or abusive language and hurting other people.

TRADITIONS OF FASTING

The following are the traditions of the Holy Prophet (pbuh)

- Eat just before dawn
- End the fast at sunset with dates, water or sweet food
- Recite the praise of Allah and seek His forgiveness
- Give charity, particularly in the last ten days of Ramadhan
- Perform the Taraveeh prayers at night
- Do 'Trikaf' i.e. stay in the masjid for last ten days of Ramadhan

EXEMPTION FROM FASTING

At an old age where it is not possible to fast due to physical weakness, the person is required, if possible, to give a charity equivalent to the value of two meals per fast.

DEFERRED FASTING

Deferred fasting is allowed for:

- a pregnant woman on medical grounds
- a breastfeeding mother if as a result of fasting, her or her child's health suffers
- a person whose health is likely to deteriorate as a result of fasting
- a traveller on a journey of three or more days
- a woman in her menstruation or parturition period

SADQA FITR - RAMADHAN CHARITY

It is required of all Muslims to pay charity of Fitr every year. The head of each household should pay on behalf of each member of the family a sum equal to the value of about 2.25 kilograms of wheat per person. It is recommended that this charity is given before Eid prayer. This year the value of Sadqa Fitr is £2.00
